

Things Evolved

Enabling Your Business Like Never Before

There was a time when a watch was just a watch; a house was just a house. Fleet trucks were just fleet trucks. But things evolved. They became smarter, better, more efficient. They changed the way business is done, the way processes work.

The Internet of Things (IoT) is Offering Transformational Possibilities

Whether your organization is looking to improve operational efficiency, differentiate your products, improve customer service or add new revenue streams to your business, Arrow's IoT solution was built to help take your business to the next level.

Are You Ready?

Get to Market Quickly and Efficiently with Arrow eVolve

Arrow eVolve is the only comprehensive IoT solution available that accounts for the entire journey of the device – from sensor to analytics to sunset. Leverage our expertise and vast supplier network to get your products to market quickly and cost effectively.

It's Time for "Things" to eVolve

Our comprehensive IoT solution accounts for the entire journey of the device from sensor to analytics to sunset. It considers for what the sensors capture, how the captured data moves into a storage platform, and how it is interpreted. It even comprises the lifetime solution cycle of break/fix, repair or repurpose. Further, eVolve eliminates the security concerns often associated with IoT, by removing vulnerabilities, adding encryption and access control, and preventing security breaches at every level.

eVolve Solution:

Design: Of the hardware (sensors, boards), the software tools and connectivity.

Operate: The platforms on which the solutions will operate, including public cloud, private cloud and hybrid cloud.

Optimize: Allows for analytics, app integration, middleware, machine learning and Big Data.

Restore: Value recovery: break/fix, repair and restore (on-site or remotely).

“Arrow doesn't provide the solution, Arrow IS the solution.”
